EULAC-PerMed: Widening EU-CELAC policy and research cooperation in Personalised Medicine

The EULAC PerMed project, financed by Horizon2020, is a research and collaboration program aimed at building bridges on PM research between Latin America and Caribbean (CELAC) and EU countries. It's main objectives are to: i) map existing programs on PM, capacities and expertise and gaps in CELAC countries; ii) facilitate the incorporation of CELAC countries ICPeMed and into the ERAPerMed; iii) foster the participation of CELAC countries in research mobility and transnational projects on PM, and build a platform for EU-CELAC collaboration on clinical trials with a focus on PM; iv) and foster cross-border learning from R&I and ELSA for implementing innovations between EU and CELAC research teams.
